From the rear cover..

In 2005, Saleena Karim raised controversy when she proved that a famous quote of M.A. Jinnah used in Chief Justice Munir's From Jinnah to Zia (1979) was a fake. In this much-anticipated sequel to Secular Jinnah, the author provides an in-depth analysis of the 'Munir quote' and its extraordinary influence over those who argue for a 'secular Jinnah'. Containing independent and original research spanning five years, Karim presents a compelling case for a Jinnah who was neither a secularist, nor a religionist, nor even a product of secular-Islam synthesis. This comprehensive book includes discussions on:

- Jinnah's 'ideological' conversion
- Iqbal's intellectual influence
- The real meaning of the Two-Nation Theory
- The Lahore Resolution as a 'deferred' partition demand
- The Cabinet Mission Plan
- The Objectives Resolution of 1949
- Academic misconstruction of Jinnah

PLUS exclusive never-before-published research:

- Account of the first and devastating use of the Munir quote in the Constituent Assembly debates of 1954
- The untold story of the Constitution (Amendment) Bill 2006 to make the 11 August 1947 speech a substantive part of the Pakistani constitution (includes correspondence between S. Karim and late M.P. Bhandara)

... and much more

Saleena Karim is a British Asian writer, researcher and editor. She is also the founder/director of the Jinnah Archive online.
